Wipperrman Bill Dead.

It is announced that the famous Wipperrman bill is dead. It is probable that no contemplated measure has received more notice from the press of the state than this bill. It was proposed in the bill to regulate the flow of the Wisconsin river, so that it would be possible to have a maximum of power the year round, by holding back some of the water when it was high and discharging it later on in the season at such times as the water would get so low that some of the water would on the river would have to shut down. There were very few papers in the state that favored the scheme as outlined in the bill, the claim being that the men who were granted the rights of regulating the water were getting the long end of it. The men who were most interested in the matter were the paper men. In fact they were about the only ones to whom it made a great deal of difference, as they own a large majority of the water rights on the river, and they did not seem to be stirring themselves much to defeat the bill, which it seems they would have done had the measure been going to do them any great amount of damage.

There is one thing certain and that is that the day will come when it will be necessary to do something to regulate the flow of water in the Wisconsin river. The fuel question will be a serious problem in the near future, and as this commodity becomes higher, the development of the water power and the careful husbanding of the water will be even more necessary than it is now, and the matter should be studied and some solution made of the matter. If the Wipperrman bill was not the proper method to pursue, one should be devised that would do the business.

Hitting at Protection.

When President Roosevelt decreed that the bounties for the construction work at the Panama canal should be purchased where it could be bought the cheapest, he gave the protectionists of his own party one of the hardest rap that they have ever encountered. This protection and free trade has become a queer thing. When the thing that is being protected is something you are manufacturing yourself, it is a good thing, but when it is something that you have to buy in large quantities, then it immediately becomes a very bad measure. There are very few people who are such ardent protectionists, that they will buy a thing at home at a high price when they can get it abroad at a much lower figure. They all believe in home made just as long as it does not cost them anything, when they think the other fellow is paying the freight, but when it comes out of their pocket, it is an entirely different matter.

Of course everybody who has taken the trouble to look up matters concerning the president knows that he was always a free trader and wrote on the subject until he went into politics, since which time he has not had a great deal to say one way or another, but this recent action of his indicates that he has not had a change of heart.

There is no need of getting mad at the president about this little matter, however. Of course it is democratic doctrine, but then the president is a pretty good democrat, anyway, and should be encouraged to continue along the lines he has started out. We opine that were it not for the gang he is mixed up with while in office he would give the people as good a democratic administration as any democrat who could be elected to the office.

The Deficit.

The deficit is increasing. For ten months ending with April the treasury deficit was about $21,000,000, the month of April showing over $9,000,000.

What is the administration going to do? The deficit last year was charged to the Panama canal purchase. What are they going to charge it to this year, and what is to be done about it? The republican leaders abused the Wilson bill shamefully because it raised the income tax was amended; it did not raise enough revenue to run the government. What about the Dingley bill? Must we raise the tariff, which is already nearly prohibitive, or will the republicans be driven to a reduction of the tariff in order to increase the revenues, or will they attempt to cut down expenses, and if so, where? Will they reduce the army? If so, they will adopt a democratic policy. Will they reduce the navy appropriations? If so, they will adopt a democratic policy. Or will they be forced to favor the income tax as a means of supporting the government? If so, they will adopt a democratic policy.

Having been forced to accept the democratic position on the tariff question, and on the question of railroad regulation, will they now be compelled to adopt the democratic position on the question of taxation? Surely the democrats have reason to rejoice at the vindication of their principles.

Protects Mail Boxes.

Approved mail boxes when erected on rural routes are afforded the full measure of protection which is provided by the federal statutes for daily designated United States rural mail depositories and their contents.

Cases of interference or tampering with them or with their contents, when brought to the attention of the department, are promptly and searchingly investigated, and persons found guilty of maliciously violating the law are dealt with according to the gravity of their offenses.

The statute approved April 21, 1902, reads as follows:

"Whoever shall hereafter willfully or maliciously injure, tear down, or destroy any letter box or other receptacle established by the order of the Postmaster General, or approved or designated by him for the receipt or delivery of mail matter on any rural free delivery route, or shall break open the same, or willfully or maliciously injure, deface, or destroy any mail matter deposited therein, or shall willfully take or steal such matter from or out of such box or other receptacle, or shall willfully aid or assist in any of the aforementioned offenses, shall for every such offense be punished by a fine or not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than three years."

The above has a significant meaning for residents along rural routes. It is to be noted that only "approved" boxes are given protection. The government prescribes what kind of a box a patron shall use and if he uses some other it is given no protection. These are automatic and less time is required to serve them. It is estimated that a carrier would be able to serve a route having all approved boxes, in an hour less time than it would take to serve a route on which half of the boxes were of varying types.

William Edwin Gardner was born in Ogleburg, N. Y., on April 24th, 1832, to Abraham and Margaret Gardner, being the oldest of a family of ten children.

He was married October 29th, 1854, to Miss Mary Sarg in Lansing, Iowa. To them also were born ten children, only five of whom survive their parents. Walter S. Gardner, Wm. E. Gardner Jr., and Mrs. Theron Lyon of this city; and Mrs. Frank Bafferty of Spring Valley, Minn., and Mrs. L. L. Bettinger of Chicago, Ill.

They came to Centralia in November of 1865 where they lived until their death. Mrs. Gardner dying Oct. 24th, 1902 and Mr. Gardner May 19th, 1905, after an illness of some 5 years duration, the last two years of which he was a great sufferer.

Mr. Gardner was a self-made man. At the age of 14 he left home and from that time made his living and secured an education. He first learned of the shoemakers trade in Matilda, Canada, afterward he became a tanner and currier and was for a time employed in the tannery of Jesse Grant, father of General U. S. Grant, under whom he later fought during the war of the rebellion. It was at the suggestion of General Grant's father that he went into business for himself, opening a shoe store in Lansing, Iowa, where he was quite successful. When the town of war sounded in Matilda, Canada, he was stirred and dropping everything he hurried to his country's defense. Like many others he acquired habits in the army which ever afterward were a hindrance to his life and barrier to success.

He received his first commission as a recruiting officer on June 6th, 1861, and on August 12th, 1861 was mustered in to the regular army for 3 years as a member of Co. K, 5th Iowa Volunteers. He served his full time and was mustered out Aug. 18th, 1864. He remained at home until Oct. of the same year when unable to stand in any longer for he was a patriot, to the cause, he enlisted again and continued until the close of the war, Nov. 14th, 1865.

He served in the western division of the army under Logan and Grant, for sometime being Gen. Logan's orderly sergeant. He was in some of the hottest battles fought by that division, such as "Missionary Ridge," "Look Out Mountain," "Corinth," "Champion Hill," "Pittsburg Landing" and "Siege of Vicksburg," where his brother Sydenham was killed.

His parents were devout Christians, and members of the M. E. church. In the last weeks of his life the teachings of those days in childhood were not forgotten and in his extremity he sought help from that source to which his parents had looked so many times and not in vain. After many days of prayer and heart searching he was enabled to step out on the promises of God and found peace in Jesus. Still the regret of his heart was that he had not done this in his youth, and given his life to the service of Him who loved and died for him.

In his death Grand Rapids loses another of her old settlers of whom few remain to tell the story of the early days.

The funeral occurred on Thursday May 18th, at the M. E. church, Rev. W. A. Peterson officiating. The G. A. R. attended in a body.

Hicks and the Weather.

The Rev. I. Hicks, weather predictor or prognosticator, has dish- ed out the following for June:

From the 2d to 5th will be central reactionary storms. From the 7th to 12th general and severe weather disturbances will take place. During this period there will be considerable electrical and magnetic excitement—may be. From the 14th to 17th, there will be thunder storms every afternoon and evening. The Rev. gentleman admonishes farmers not to cut hay at this period. The Vernal storm period begins on the 20th and extends to the 24th and relative to this the preacher-weather man says: "Thunder clouds and squalls at this time have a surprising way of doubling back and slipping up from easterly directions, striking the navy on the 'blind side' and coming in at the back door generally." For the citizens of this republic will be favored with an electrical storm each day. From the above forecast it is hard to see where we are to get any pleasant weather during the month. But then Hicks, the infallible, has decreed that we shall carry umbrellas and wear rubbers, and so all we can do is to grin and bear it.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

The twelve year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Piper of Wausau met with a terrible accident on Friday whereby the little fellow lost two fingers on his left hand and one from his right, they being literally burned off by an electric current. In company with a number of other boys he was playing around an old barn and in attempting to get on the roof of an adjoining barn caught hold of an electric light wire and hung there until finally pulled down by his companions. Upon examination it was found that the little finger of his left hand, and the next one two had been so badly shivered and charred that there was no possibility of saving them, nor of the forefinger of the right hand. The little finger was severely more than a piece of charred flesh and all that held it to the hand was a small segment of skin. The pulps of both hands and the wrists were also terribly seared and burned.

The old saw mill at Anshuldale will be thoroughly overhauled before next winter for the purpose of running another four or five years, the R. Connor Co. having purchased about a thousand acres located five miles north of the village which contains fully 4 1/2 million feet of good standing timber. This mill has had a charmed existence, having been erected 22 years ago. It has been set afire scores of times by sparks from locomotives and other sources but escaped saw mill along the Central line. A bark peeling camp has been started on the tract and will be kept running through the summer. The continuance of the saw mill for five years longer should be good news to the people of Anshuldale as it was expected that the timber having been all cut and sawed the mill would be torn down. —Marshfield News.

Notice.

Notice is hereby Given, That the Grand Rapids Foundry company will apply to the Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids at its next regular meeting, on the first Tuesday of June, 1905, for the passage of the following ordinance and franchise:

ORDINANCE NO. 111

An ordinance granting certain privileges and franchises to the Grand Rapids Foundry company.

The Common Council of the City of Grand Rapids do ordain as follows: Section 1. Permission is hereby granted to the Grand Rapids Foundry company, a corporation of said city, its successors and assigns, subject to the franchise heretofore granted to the Electric & Water company, to place, erect, maintain and use on that part of High street on the West side of the Wisconsin river lying in the S. E. 1/4 of the S. E. 1/4 of section 7, township 22 north of range 6 east, poles or posts of wood or other suitable material, with the necessary wires, fixtures and appurtenances thereon for the purpose of procuring for use at its proposed plant light and power, to operate and conduct an electric current on wires along said street from the eastern extremity of said street at the Wisconsin river to the proposed plant of said company near the North West corner of the S. E. 1/4 of the S. E. 1/4 above described, provided however, the said poles and wires thereon shall be put in, in such manner as not to interfere with travel on said street, sidewalks, alleys, and other public uses of said street, and said company shall always maintain the same in good order and condition.

Section 2. The points of location of the poles for said electric wires shall be set by said corporation at such points and places as the Common Council or the street committee of said city may determine, and they shall be so set so as not to interfere with the flow of water in any drain or gutter of said city, and the Common Council shall have the right at any time to change the location of said poles without any liability for damages.

Section 3. This ordinance shall in no way be construed as granting an exclusive privilege to the Grand Rapids Foundry company, and the Common Council expressly reserves the right to pass other ordinances of a similar nature to this one, and to grant the right of way thru, in and upon its streets, alleys and public places for the erection, maintenance and use of the necessary poles and appurtenances of any other corporation or individual whenever requested, and the said Common Council reserves the right to repeal this ordinance whenever in their judgment the public welfare may require it.

Section 4. The said Grand Rapids Foundry company, in consideration of the passage of this ordinance, and the privilege hereby granted, expressly releases the city of Grand Rapids from any and all claims and damages which may arise or be caused to its poles, wires or other appurtenances by the firemen of said city during a fire, or by mobs, riots or other civil commotion, and by the acceptance of this franchise further expressly agrees at all times to protect said city from liability on account of any accident to any person or property public or private resulting from its operations under this franchise, and shall save said city of Grand Rapids harmless from any and all judgments obtained against it by reason of the erection and existence of said poles and wires or operation under this franchise, and in case of failure so to do all rights under this franchise shall be revoked by the Common Council of said city and such poles, wires and appurtenances shall be at once removed from said street.

Section 5. Said Common Council shall have the right at any time to repeal, alter or amend this ordinance and any provision thereof as it shall see fit.

Section 6. This ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage and publication.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH

Mr. Rockefeller's Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to John D. Rockefeller's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable.

His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

Everyone who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

There are twenty million men and women suffering with dyspepsia—twenty million men and women whose stomachs are wearing out.

There are no new stomachs for sale at any price.

We offer these sufferers the next best thing. We guarantee to make their old stomachs almost as good as new.

Dyspepsia, is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the missing element—to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power, and to make the stomach strong and well.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will positively and permanently cure. We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Price 35 cents. Only at our store, or by mail.

There are five counties included in the circuit, and the fair will be held at Wau. Appleton, Aug. 29 to Sept. 17; Wau. Sept. 18 to 26; Merrill, Sept. 27 to 30; Antigo, Sept. 31 to 23; New London, Sept. 24 to 29. The stakes hung up in this circuit aggregate $20,000, as follows: Appleton, $3,000; Wau. $1,800; Merrill, $4,000; Antigo, $3,000; New London, $3000.

An ingenious mortal out west has come to the timely rescue of perplexed gardeners by inventing an attachment which prevents chickens from scratching in the gardens. It is attached to the chicken's legs, and when the fowl commences operations on the onion bed the little machine immediately walks the hen out of the garden. Everytime the leg is lifted it is forced forward a few inches, and the harder a hen attempts to scratch the faster it is compelled to run. Next to the X-ray, the anti-scratcher is noted as one of the most useful and satisfying invention of the age.—EX.

Employees of the Union Pacific railroad are to have the bumps of their heads interpreted by a phenologist, to ascertain whether or not they are working in the department for which they are best adapted by nature's development of the brain. It is not the intention of the railroad to discharge an employee who is lacking in railroad bumps. A Chicago phenologist has been engaged to start the examination in Omaha this week. Some one of the officials believes that the man whose cranial development indicates that he will be more successful along some other line should be transferred and that is the object of the investigation.

Marshall News.—Don't imagine for an instant that the Ecker boys who control a little settlement of their own five miles west of Marshfield, belong to the race suicide syndicate. There are four brothers and one sister (Mrs. Frank Hater) and their excellent management of family affairs there is credited to their respective family circles five pairs of twins, each family claiming a pair, besides numerous singletons. The oldest of the boys are nearing their sixth year while the latest arrivals are but three weeks old. It is a queer family characteristic and if there are any in this neck of the woods that can beat it let them stand up and be counted.

At the recent county board meeting E. P. Arpin introduced a resolution calling for a committee of three to visit neighboring training schools with a view to securing plans for a Wood county building. This is the opening wedge for the erection at Grand Rapids of a structure to cost perhaps $40,000 to $50,000 for the teachers training school which has been occupying rooms since it was established, Feb. 31, 1908, in the Grand Rapids High school. This is an immense structure and capable of accommodating the teachers training department for at least ten years to come. A contract for this period could be made and it was understood until recently that the school should continue for some years at least in the present quarters. The taxpayers of the county can hardly afford to erect a handsome though unnecessary building for Grand Rapids when there are so many improvements sorely needed, and put off from year to year on account of the expense.—Marshall News.

Exposition Opening Program.
Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks, personally representing the President of the United States, will deliver the principal address at the opening ceremonies of the Lewis & Clark Centennial exposition at Portland, next Thursday, June 1. Following the Vice-President, United States Senator Clarence Clark of Wyoming will speak. Congressman J. A. Tawney of Minnesota, famous as the friend of expositions, will make a speech on behalf of the House of Representatives.

President H. W. Goode of the exposition company will formally announce the opening. Mayor George H. Williams of Portland, known as "Portland's Grand Old Man", being 82 years of age and a former United States cabinet officer and senator, will give the freedom of the city to the visitors in an appropriate address. Governor Chamberlain of Oregon and other distinguished men will speak.

At 1 o'clock, Portland time, President Roosevelt at Washington will touch the golden telegraph key and start the machinery of the exposition, pealing forth the strains of "America" from the chimes in one of the towers on the Government building. Instant band will furnish music during the day.

Class Play Tonight.
The class play by the high school scholars occurs at the Lincoln school building this evening. Admission 25 and 15 cents.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Very Best.
"I have been using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and want to say it is the best cough medicine I have ever taken," says Geo. L. Chubb, a merchant of Portland, Me. There is no question about its being the best, as it will cure a cough or cold in less time than any other treatment. It should always be kept in the home, ready for instant use, for a cold can be cured in much less time when promptly treated. For sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

A New Bishop.
Rev. Augustine F. Selimier, vicar general of the Milwaukee diocese, has been named as bishop for the new Superior diocese of the Catholic church in Wisconsin, the appointment having been made by Pope Pius X, and the official documents are now on the way to this country.

Confronts the Grave.
Neglecting a cough means confronting the grave. Use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is the only remedy which brings quick results. It is made of honey and tar and other healing balm, and is best for children. Sold by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.
